BLOODSHED IS FEARED DURING FLOOR CONTEST

Convention Managers Agree
Upon Plan For Separate
Session Tonight

POLICE AROUND GARDEN

Authorities Also Pack Convention, Fearing Open Fights on Question

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Fearing great disorder and possibly bloodshed, managers of the Democratic national convention today feared to discuss the Klan plank of the platform in the presence of the crowded galleries and agreed upon a plan for a separate session tonight, from which all but delegates and newspapermen would be excluded.

Talk of party splits on every side, threats of violence which caused authorities to pack Madison Square Garden and streets nearby with police, and openly expressed fears that some blood might be spilled in a heated discussion of the religious issues, caused the convention managers to come to a decision.

The greatest crowd of the convention had been packed into the hall. Leaders on both sides of the Klan question were fearful of demonstrations from the gallery and probable charges to intimidate the delegates.

During the luncheon recess, which had been taken after Chairman Cummings of the resolutions committee, had read a dramatic plea for more time to consider the question, early conferences were held in a last-minute effort to get a unanimous decision on the Klan plank.

But the last method was feeble and finally the word came that the committee would present as a part of its majority report a plank drawn by William Jennings Bryan which does not mention the Klan by name. At the same time it became known that the plank which does name the Klan specifically would be offered as a minority report and that the argument for it would be in charge of Bainbridge Colby, former Secretary of State.

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Responding to appeals to the party leaders to give more time for the platform committee to work on the Ku Klux Klan plank, the Democratic national convention, after a brief session, recessed to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Seemingly hopelessly divided on the issue of whether the Klan is to be named specifically and surrounded by war clouds loaded with threats of a party split, the convention managers sent Homer Cummings, chairman of the platform committee, to the bat to explain to the convention why the platform was being delayed, and to plead for more time.

Tired and worn by continuous loss of sleep since last Tuesday, Chairman Cummings gave as dramatic a recital as ever has been heard in national conventions, explaining the deliberations of the committee and its inability to reach an agreement. He told, amid a dramatic silence, how after an all-night session the committeemen had gathered around their tables in the breaking dawn of day and recited in unison the Lord's prayer after which William Jennings Bryan had raised in voice and asked divine guidance.

Tells of Struggle
Stepping to the front of the platform, worn and tired and showing the effects of hours of labor, Chairman Cummings began a short address, outlining the situation in the committee. He had a grave face as he spoke.

The chairman began by saying that what he was about to tell the convention was about a subject which "may in a very large way affect the destinies of our party." He then recited how the committee had

GENERAL RAIN ASSURES SOUTHWEST N. D. OF GOOD FEED CROP; ALMOST CLINCHES OTHER FINE PROSPECTS

Bismarck Has Inch of Rain, Napoleon More Than Inch, and Dickinson and Dunn Center Both Report Rains, Part of General Rain Over the State—Corn, Flax and Hay
and Feed Crops Now Have Enough Moisture to
Mature, Is Opinion of Farmers

A general rain last night over southwestern North Dakota, heaviest in Bismarck territory, increased the crop prospects in this section, and virtually assures the southwestern section of one of the best crops in many years, in the opinion of men familiar with conditions.

Corn, hay and feed crops and flax now have sufficient moisture to mature, it is declared. Wheat and oats and other grains, with one more rain probably shortly before the middle of July, will mature with one of the finest crops in many years.

The chief damage feared now is from hail, there having been much hail already in the section this year.

Rain reported at Bismarck in 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today was one inch, and rain continued after this recording point at the weather bureau had been reached. Dickinson reported .16 of an inch of rain up to 7 a. m., Dunn Center .19, and Napoleon had a real downpour, reporting 1.10 inches of rain fall up to 7 o'clock this morning.

Other points in the state reporting to the weather bureau show precipitation as follows, for the 24-hour period: Minn. 2.06; Bottineau 0; Devils Lake .01; Ellendale .49; Grand Forks .03; Jamestown .23; Larimore .07; Lisbon .02; Minn. .76; Napoleon 1.10; Pembina 0; Williston 2.42; Moorhead, Minn. 1.66.

Prediction was made that Sunday would be fair.

Similar to 1915
The course of the weather in western North Dakota thus far this year is greatly similar to that of 1915, when the state harvested one of its greatest crops, according to weather bureau officials. A lack of moisture during the winter placed the record considerably below normal up into the spring, which was very late this year as in 1915, and the downpour after downpour quickly took up the deficiency, and now crops are remarkably early start. So frequently has rain continued that the pastures continue in remarkably fine condition, which is proving a great aid to the cattle raisers in this section of the state, and also assures a great feed crop for the dairy farms, which have been increased. It has been a boon to sheep ranchers, who have been increasing in this extreme western and southern part of the state.

Wheat, Oats Late
The weather has been too cool for corn, according to farmers, and it got a late start, but its problem as far as moisture is concerned, is held to be solved already, and with cultivation, good warm weather in the middle of the summer, another corn crop is held assured.

Crop prospects throughout the state are excellent, and none better than in southwestern North Dakota.

FORECAST FOR NEXT WEEK

Washington, June 28.—Weather outlook for week beginning Monday: Upper Mississippi Valley—Fairly cloudy with unsettled and scattered showers and thunderstorms about Wednesday; moderate temperatures about middle of the week.

KLAN IS SUED FOR $50,000

First of Several Probable
Actions Started

Chicago, June 28.—A suit for $50,000 damages against the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, a corporation organized under the laws of Georgia, was filed in the United States District Court by the American Unity Publishing Company, which publishes "Tolerance," alleging conspiracy against certain races and classes of citizens.

According to Patrick H. O'Donnell, president of the American Unity League, which was organized to oppose the Klan, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, is interesting himself in preparation for legal action against the Klan in New York, and that other federal actions against the Klan and its high officials may be taken.

DEM PLATFORM WITH 2 ISSUES OUT IS GIVEN

Half a Hundred Planks Have Been Written For Presentation to Convention

ASSAILS REPUBLICANS

Strict Public Control and Conservation of Resources
Is Asked

New York, June 28.—Leaving out of consideration the controversial Ku Klux Klan and League of Nations issues the platform submitted today to the Democratic national convention by its resolutions committee contains half a hundred planks. Most of them commit the party as to policy in the event of victory in November, while others are devoted chiefly to criticism of the Republican administration.

The pledges which would be taken by the party include:

Further tax reduction and revision of the tariff.

Enactment of legislation designed "to restore the farmer again to economic equality with other industrialists."

Readjustment of freight rates and revision of the transportation act, with a view to eliminating the rate-making sections, abolishing the railroad labor board and restoring to state control over intra-state rates.

Operation of Muscle Shoals for maximum production of fertilizer.

Ask Control
Strict public control and conservation of the nation's resources, recovery of oil reserves, "fraudulently" leased, and vigorous prosecution of any guilty or wrong-doing in leasing transactions.

Governmental control of the anthracite industry and "all other corporations controlling the necessities of life where public welfare has been subordinated to private interests."

Operation of a government merchant marine "so long as it may be necessary while not obstructing the development of a privately owned American flag shipping."

Faithful compliance with the spirit of civil service and its extension to internal revenue officers.

Equivalent salaries for postal employees.

Adoption of the so-called "lame duck" constitutional amendment, which would prevent members of Congress from participating in a session after their defeat for reelection.

Revision of the corrupt practice act to prevent excessive campaign contributions and expenditures.

Enforcement of the constitution and all laws with an assertion that the Republican administration has failed to enforce the prohibition law.

Maintenance of Asiatic immigration exclusion by legislation.

Immediate independence for the Philippines.

Establishment of a full territorial form of government for Alaska.

Protection of American rights in Turkey and fulfillment of President Wilson's arbitral award respecting Armenia.

Somewhat Cleared

49TH SETTLED
 Fargo, June 28.—The Forty-ninth legislative district nominated two Leaguers and one Independent for the legislature, McKay, Richardson, Leaguers, and Brown, Independent, are nominated.

The Independent candidate for state senator won.

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—The Independents who suffered the loss of the Republican gubernatorial nomination and other reverses along the line so far as the Republican state ticket is concerned found themselves confronted with a new problem today when further reverses in primary candidates for nominations for members of the House of Representatives were developed on returns received.

New shifts revealed on the face of new returns inflict a new loss of two house members on the Independents and leave them in a position where they must go into several districts next fall and make intensive campaigns for individually nominated candidates or Independent Democratic candidates, if they expect to retain control of the lower branch of the assembly.

As for the Senate, the single outstanding contest remaining undecided is the 49th where the returns from all except six precincts give the Independent candidate, Seamen, a lead of 28 over Bratsburg, the Leaguer, for the Senatorial nomination.

Woz Wins
Defeat of the Independents in the 39th district comprising Golden Valley, Slope, Bowman and Billings where Gus Woz Leaguer, won from R. J. List, Independent, were definitely established late yesterday.

The vote from the missing precincts in Sioux county will not be received at Fort Yates until late today. The missing precincts are in the western part of the county, which cannot be reached by telephone, and returns were mailed and go in a circuitous route to reach Ft. Yates. At Ft. Yates it was said they break about even, so the result cannot be determined until those returns are available.

As a matter of fact, the Independents are today in about the same situation, so far as prospective control of the assembly is concerned, as they were two years ago immediately after the primaries when it became necessary to lay plans for special campaigns in some districts that are ordinarily favorable to Independents, but which, from one cause or another, swung into the League column so far as Republican nominations are concerned.

The reverses sustained by the Independents on the basis of new House of Representatives returns include one in Logan and McIntosh county, where at least one Independent, Kelly, has lost. The district had three Independents in the last session.

Another nomination had been lost in Pierce county where Larson, Independent, is defeated by a margin of about 20 votes, while Peters, Independent, and Lars, Leaguer, have been nominated in a full representation.

Two shifts that offset each other occurred in the central section of the state.

Griggs and Steele counties have nominated two Leaguers and an Independent, where the district here before has been represented by three Leaguers. In Foster and Eddy counties J. L. Burk, Independent, has been defeated.

A League split in Griggs county was responsible for the fact that I. W. Stanley, Independent, has been nominated along with Andrew Erickson and E. C. Iverson, Leaguers. Constant, an Independent Leaguer, polled 224 votes.

The Logan and McIntosh situation developed as a result of inability to effect agreement prior to the election for the placing of a straight Independent ticket in the field. As the county stands, Miller, Peters and Herr have been nominated. Peters is a Leaguer. Henry and Miller Independent. Kelly has long been a factor in legislative affairs in the district and his defeat was wholly unexpected.

Compilation of shifts in the House situation shows the following situation: Independents gained a nomination in LaMoure, Morton, Wells, Griggs and Steele and two in Ransom. Leaguers gained a nomination in Grant, Bemis, Barnes, Dickey, Eddy

COMMISSIONERS RACE FIGURES

Victor Moynier, incumbent, and E. H. L. Vesperman of Bismarck, will be candidates against each other in the fall election for county commissioner from the fifth district, as a result of the primary. They were high in a three-cornered race, Moynier getting 643 votes, Vesperman 421 and Sweet 220.

In the second district, C. A. Swanson, incumbent, and C. A. Anderson of Moffit were nominated, George Day of Britton being low. The vote was: Swanson 290, Anderson 201, Day 109.

The vote on each follows:

Moynier	Vesperman	Sweet
Riverview	15	0
Burnt Creek	24	16
Naughton	44	3

Nothing Heard From Big
Four Train Due in Peoria
in Early Hours

Peoria, Ill., June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Eight persons are dead and scores injured as a result of a tornado which broke over Peoria and surrounding territory at 3:15 this morning, according to reports received up to 9:30 A. M.

No trace of a Big Four passenger train, Indianapolis-Peoria bound, can be found. The train was due here at 6:45 a. m.

The bodies of a woman and her husband were found in a field far from their home at Cloverdale, near here, and at Morton, 10 miles east of here, two were reported killed and many injured.

STORM AT DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—A tornado struck this city about 1:30 this morning and caused thousands of dollars of damage to property. Two persons were known to have been injured, but owing to crippled telephone service it could not be determined if any one was killed.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—Four persons are known to have been injured and huge property loss suffered in a number of Iowa cities resulting from a severe wind storm that swept virtually all sections of the state early today. All communication lines were interrupted this morning and an accurate survey of conditions was impossible. Fragmentary reports indicated that property loss was chiefly in plate glass, tangled transmission and communication lines, fallen fruit trees, flattened field crops and unroofed buildings.

Many bridges were washed out. Officials of the Rock Island railroad reported traffic virtually at a standstill.

The persons known here to have been injured were hurt by falling debris.

In Australia there are at least 20 species of animals that are aviators—flying squirrels, flying opossums, flying mice and even flying bears.

The Nonpartisan league, since 1921 when a recall election was faced, has been relegated to a secondary position in state politics.

KITCHEN ALSO HAS CHANCE TO TAKE VICTORY

Revision of Cass County Returns Adds to the Vote of
The Independents

LEAGUE WINS OTHERS

All Other State Contests on
Republican Ballot go to
Nonpartisans

Fargo, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Governor R. A. Nestos was 848 votes behind A. G. Sorlie today when all except 98 precincts in the state had reported, and when the revised Cass county returns, as announced by County Auditor Ford Doherty, increased Nestos' margin in this county materially as compared with the previous tabulations.

The 98 missing precincts are virtually all rural, most of them in League territory, and will increase the Sorlie margin.

As the count stands today it is 69,372 for Sorlie, 68,534 for Nestos, and 5,726 for Moe. Except for George Shafter, Independent, for Attorney General, and John Steen for state auditor who seem assured of nomination, and the contest between Joseph Kitchen, Independent, and W. J. Church, Leaguer, for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, Republican nominees as a result of Wednesday's primary are Nonpartisan.

Shafter Ahead
When 1,952 precincts out of 2,160 in the state had reported in the contest between Shafter and Thoresen the unofficial tabulation gave Shafter 67,202; Thoresen 59,430.

As the contest for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor went into the final phases, returns from 1,960 precincts gave Kitchen a margin of 2,441, the vote being 65,912 for Kitchen and 63,471 for Church, the League candidate.

Included in the outstanding precincts are a large number in Pierce and 36 in Emmons, representing all of that county. In these counties Kitchen can figure on close to an even break, or better, as Pierce has given Nestos a larger majority than Emmons has given Sorlie.

Thus Kitchen will come up to a total of 2,006 precincts with his present majority or better, leaving Church with only a few over a hundred scattered precincts with which to overcome the lead. The missing precincts are pretty well scattered over the state and some are known to be favorable to the Independent.

Steen Is Strong
John Steen, too, seems in a position to capture the nomination for state auditor as he leads with a vote 68,054 to 63,964 for Pointexter, on the returns from 1936 precincts.

Not included in this total are the 9 precincts in Pierce and 36 in Emmons, in which group Steen can figure on an even break, as Pierce is his own county, thus carrying Steen to a total of 1,953 precincts, accounting for the two missing counties, without seriously impairing his majority of 4,090, which, it would seem, would be sufficient to meet any reverses that he might meet up with in the 124 scattered precincts.

Other results in the state ticket are definitely established. Frank Ployhar, Independent, has been defeated by Walter Maddock, Leaguer for Lieutenant-Governor.

C. A. Fisher, Leaguer, has defeated Lyngstad, Independent, for state treasurer.

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Fearing great disorder and possibly bloodshed, managers of the Democratic national convention today feared to discuss the Klan plank of the platform in the presence of the crowded galleries and agreed upon a plan for a separate session tonight, from which all but delegates and newspapermen would be excluded.

Talk of party splits on every side, threats of violence which caused authorities to pack Madison Square Garden and streets nearby with police, and openly expressed fears that some blood might be spilled in a heated discussion of the religious issues, caused the convention managers to come to a decision.

The greatest crowd of the convention had been packed into the hall. Leaders on both sides of the Klan question were fearful of demonstrations from the gallery and probable charges to intimidate the delegates.

During the luncheon recess, which had been taken after Chairman Cummings, of the resolutions committee, had read a dramatic plea for more time to consider the question, early conferences were held in a last-minute effort to get a unanimous decision on the Klan plank.

At the same time it became known that the plank which does name the Klan specifically would be offered as a minority report and that the argument for it would be in charge of Bainbridge Colby, former Secretary of State.

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Responding to appeals to the party leaders to give more time for the platform committee to work on the Ku Klux Klan plank, the Democratic national convention, after a brief session, recessed to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Seemingly hopelessly divided on the issue of whether the Klan is to be named specifically and surrounded by war clouds loaded with threats of a party split, the convention managers sent Homer Cummings, chairman of the platform committee, to the bat to explain to the convention why the platform was being delayed, and to plead for more time.

Tired and worn by continuous loss of sleep since last Tuesday, Chairman Cummings gave as dramatic a recital as ever has been heard in national conventions, explaining the deliberations of the committee and its inability to reach an agreement. He told, amid a dramatic silence, how after an all-night session the committeemen had gathered around their tables in the breaking dawn of day and recited in unison the Lord's prayer after which William Jennings Bryan had raised in voice and asked divine guidance.

GENERAL RAIN ASSURES SOUTHWEST N. D. OF GOOD FEED CROP; ALMOST CLINCHES OTHER FINE PROSPECTS

Bismarck Has Inch of Rain, Napoleon More Than Inch, and Dickinson and Dunn Center Both Report Rains, Part of General Rain Over the State—Corn, Flax and Hay
and Feed Crops Now Have Enough Moisture to
Mature, Is Opinion of Farmers

A general rain last night over southwestern North Dakota, heaviest in Bismarck territory, increased the crop prospects in this section and virtually assured the southwestern section of one of the best crops in many years, in the opinion of men familiar with conditions.

Corn, hay and feed crops and flax now have sufficient moisture to mature, it is declared. Wheat and oats and other grains, with one more rain probably shortly before the middle of July, will mature with one of the finest crops in many years.

The chief damage feared now is from hail, there having been much hail already in the section this year. Rain reported at Bismarck in 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today was one inch, and rain continued after this recording point at the weather bureau had been reached. Dickinson reported .16 of an inch of rain up to 7 a. m., Dunn Center .19, and Napoleon had a real downpour, reporting 1.10 inches of rain fall up to 7 o'clock this morning.

Other points in the state reporting to the weather bureau show precipitation as follows, for the 24-hour period: Amenia 2.06; Bottineau 0; Devils Lake .01; Ellendale .49; Grand Forks .03; Jamestown 2.20; Larimore .07; Lisbon 2.02; Minot .75; Napoleon 1.10; Pembina 0; Williston 2.42; Moorhead, Minnesota 1.66.

Prediction was made that Sunday would be fair.

Similar to 1915

The course of the weather in western North Dakota thus far this year is greatly similar to that of 1915, when the state harvested one of its greatest crops, according to weather bureau officials. A lack of moisture during the winter placed the record considerably below normal up into the spring, which was very late this year as in 1915, and the downpour after downpour quickly took up the deficiency, and gave crops a remarkable start. So frequently has rain continued that the pastures continue in remarkably fine condition, which is proving a great aid to the cattle raisers in this section of the state, and also assures a great feed crop for the dairy farms, which have been increased. It has been a boon to sheep ranchers, who have been increasing in the extreme western and southwestern part of the state.

The weather has been too cool for corn, according to farmers, and it got a late start, but its problem as far as moisture is concerned, is held to be solved already, and with cultivation, good warm weather in the middle of the summer, another corn crop is held assured.

Wheat, Oats, Late
Wheat and oats would, in ordinary years, have sufficient moisture at this time to mature. The crop is at least two weeks late, however, and additional moisture will be needed to help it fill out. Straw will be the heaviest in years, and causes the requirement of more moisture.

Crop prospects throughout the state are excellent, and none better than in southwestern North Dakota.

Sweeping reduction of sea and land armaments. Promotion of deep waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean and improvement of inland waterways.

Enactment of legislation dealing with fraudulent stock sales.

Vigorous enforcement of laws against monopoly and illegal combinations and enactment of additional measures if necessary.

Charges that "never before in our history has the government been so tainted by corruption" and pledges the Democratic party to drive all wrongdoers from public office and give out prompt punishment.

At the outset there is a tribute to Woodrow Wilson whose ideals, it declares, "will serve as an example and inspiration for this and future generations."

Another nomination had been lost in Pierce county where Larson, Independent, is defeated by a margin of about 20 votes, while Peters, Independent, and Lares, Leaguer, have been nominated. Pierce has long been in the Independent column with a full representation.

Two shifts that off-set each other occurred in the central section of the state.

Griggs and Steele counties have nominated two Leaguers and an Independent, where the district heretofore has been represented by three Leaguers. In Foster and Eddy counties J. L. Burk, Independent, has been defeated.

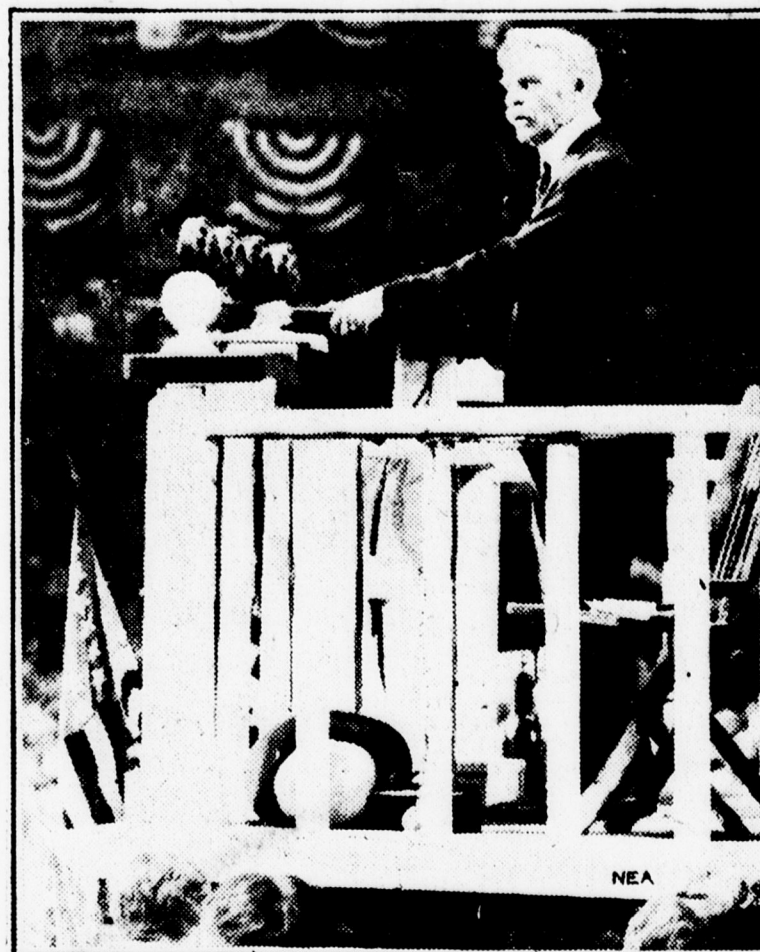

A League split in Griggs county was responsible for the fact that I. W. Stanley, Independent, has been nominated along with Andrew Erickson and E. G. Iverson, Leaguers. Conant, an Independent Leaguer, polled 224 votes.

The Logan and McIntosh situation developed as a result of inability to effect agreement prior to the election for the placing of a straight Independent ticket in the field. As the county stands, Miller, Faterer and Herr have been nominated. Fetere is a Leaguer, Herry and Miller Independents. Kelly has long been a factor in legislative affairs in the district and his defeat was wholly unexpected.

Compilation of ship's in the H-use situation shows the following situation: Independents gained a nomination in LaMoure, Morton, Wells, Griggs and Steele and two in Ransom.

8 ARE KNOWN DEAD IN STORM AROUND PEORIA

Illinois City Is Visited by Terrific Storm in Early Hours of Today

TRAIN IS MISSING

Nothing Heard From Big
Four Train Due in Peoria
in Early Hours

Peoria, Ill., June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Eight persons are dead and scores injured as a result of a tornado which broke over Peoria and surrounding territory at 3:15 this morning, according to reports received up to 9:30 A. M.

No trace of a Big Four passenger train, Indianapolis-Peoria bound, can be found. The train was due here at 6:45 a. m.

The bodies of a woman and her babe were found in a field far from their home at Cloverdale, near here, and at Morton, 10 miles east of here, two were reported killed and many injured.

STORM AT DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—A tornado struck this city about 1:30 this morning and caused thousands of dollars of damage to property.

Two persons were known to have been injured, but owing to crippled telephone service it could not be determined if any one was killed.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—Four persons are known to have been injured and huge property loss suffered in a number of Iowa cities resulting from a severe wind storm that swept virtually all sections of the state early today. All communication lines were interrupted this morning and an accurate survey of conditions was impossible.

Fragmentary reports indicated that property loss was chiefly in plate glass, tangled transmission and communication lines, fallen fruit trees, flattened field crops and unroofed buildings.

Many bridges were washed out. Officials of the Rock Island railroad reported traffic virtually at a standstill.

The persons known here to have been injured were hurt by falling debris.

Expelled Germans to be Permitted to Return

Duesseldorf, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—The French commission's recent proclamation permitting the return to occupied territory of some of the Germans expected from the Ruhr and Rhineland has been extended, it was announced today, to include all German nationals expatriated from the Duesseldorf bridgehead and the Ruhr occupied by the French.

COOPERATION IS HIS KEYNOTE,
SAYS SORLIE IN STATEMENT

Fargo, June 28.—With Governor R. A. Nestos conceding his defeat for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Wednesday's primary election, as A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, Nonpartisan League candidate, swept into the lead, one of the closest races of this state's history neared its close. Sorlie had a lead of 1,208, 100 precincts out of 2,160 precincts missing. The missing precincts are reputed to be League territory.

"I regard the result of the state primary as an indication that the people of North Dakota intend to conduct their state government for their own benefit," declared Mr. Sorlie, when assured that the nomination for Governor was his. He further declared that the policies he advocated were "cooperation for the common good, not only in the government and the conduct of North Dakota's industries" but in every field of endeavor.

The Nonpartisan league, since 1921 when a recall election was faced, has been relegated to a secondary position in state politics.

KITCHEN ALSO HAS CHANCE TO TAKE VICTORY

Revision of Cass County Returns Adds to the Vote of
The Independents

LEAGUE WINS OTHERS

All Other State Contests on
Republican Ballot go to
Nonpartisans

Fargo, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Governor R. A. Nestos was 848 votes behind A. G. Sorlie today when all except 98 precincts in the state had reported, and when the revised Cass county returns, as announced by County Auditor Ford Doherty, increased Nestos' margin in this county materially as compared with the previous tabulations.

The 98 missing precincts are virtually all rural, most of them in League territory, and will increase the Sorlie margin.

As the count stands today it is 69,372 for Sorlie, 68,534 for Nestos, and 5,726 for Moe.

Except for George Shafer, Independent, for Attorney General, and John Steen for state auditor who seem assured of nomination, and the contest between Joseph Kitchen, Independent, and W. J. Church, Leaguer, for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, Republican nominees as a result of Wednesday's primary are Nonpartisan.

Shafer Ahead

When 1,952 precincts out of 2,160 in the state had reported in the contest between Shafer and Thoresen the unofficial tabulation gave Shafer 67,202; Thoresen 59,430.

As the contest for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor went into the final phases, returns from 1,960 precincts gave Kitchen a margin of 2,441, the vote being 65,912 for Kitchen and 63,471 for Church, the League candidate.

Included in the outstanding precincts are a large number in Pierce and 36 in Emmons, representing all of that county. In these counties Kitchen can figure on close to an even break, or better, as Pierce has given Nestos a larger majority than Emmons has given Sorlie.

Thus Kitchen will come up to a total of 2,006 precincts with his present majority or better, leaving Church with only a few over a hundred scattered precincts with which to overcome the lead.

The missing precincts are pretty well scattered over the state and some are known to be favorable to the Independent.

Steen Is Strong

John Steen, too, seems in a position to capture the nomination for state auditor as he leads with a vote 68,054 to 63,964 for Poindexter, on the returns from 1936 precincts.

Not included in this total are the 9 precincts in Pierce and 36 in Emmons, in which group Steen can figure on an even break, as Pierce is his own county, thus carrying Steen to a total of 1,953 precincts, accounting for the two missing counties, without seriously impairing his majority of 4,090, which, it would seem, would be sufficient to meet any reverses that he might meet up with in the 124 scattered precincts.

Other results in the state ticket are definitely established. Frank Ployhar, Independent, has been defeated by Walter Maddock, Leaguer for Lieutenant-Governor.

C. A. Fisher, Leaguer, has defeated Lyngstad, Independent, for state treasurer.

BANKING AND CREDIT GAIN IN NORTHWEST

Federal Reserve Bank Reports Gain of Considerable Potential Strength

MID-SUMMER DULLNESS

Condition Experienced During Past Month in Many Parts of District

Minneapolis, June 27.—The Ninth federal reserve district is experiencing a period known as "mid summer dullness," according to the monthly report issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, for its district. The activity and volume of business, however, is better than a month previous, the report said. A lessening of marketing of agricultural products and late spring activity on farms were deterrent factors.

Mid-summer dullness, advanced by sixty days, characterizes current business in this district. Measured by bank debits, the activity and volume of business appears to be slightly better than a month ago, but poorer than a year ago. Marketing of agricultural products, late spring activity on farms, and financing probably account for this improvement since merchandising, manufacturing, and city employment conditions all show declines in May.

Grains have moved to market in larger volume, except wheat, and all terminal stocks were heavily reduced. This, coupled with the crop outlook, has improved wheat prices. On the other hand, livestock prices have advanced a little, though the heavy receipts of hogs prevailing for some months past are now tapering off, and receipts of calves are somewhat curtailed.

Merchandising at wholesale has been much depressed, except for farm implement sales. Retail department store sales have not been sufficient to move stocks normally and hand-to-mouth buying results. However, rural buying is shown, and is not fully up to the normal increase customary for this season, nor on a level with a year ago.

Manufacturing, with the exception of flour, shows the same decline as in merchandising. Mining output, however, has been maintained. Lake shipments apparently are much out of balance, when compared with last year, owing to a larger down lake movement of grain and flour and a heavier decline in reduction in the up-lake movement of coal.

Building Activity
Prospective building activity, as shown by the permits issued, is about one-fifth poorer than a year ago. However, there was an improvement over last month in the valuation, although not in the number of permits. Residential rents are reported as declining in important cities of this district, indicating either that new building in recent months has overtaken the demand for housing, or that the present pronounced increase in unemployment has begun to have its usual effect.

Banking and credit conditions on the average in this district, have acquired considerably greater potential strength during the six week period ending at the middle of June. Reports from all selected member banks in the larger cities show a loan decline of 5 millions, coupled with a demand deposits increase of 71.2 millions. Federal reserve bank loans, meanwhile, were practically unchanged and Federal reserve notes issued early in May for depositors' needs, had begun to return in substantial quantity during the first three weeks of June.

Crop conditions in general were favorable on June 1 throughout the Ninth Federal Reserve District. During the first two weeks of June sufficient moisture fell to supply the crops in most sections with all the moisture needed for some time. All the crops are backward, but the season has favored the development of root systems and stooling of small grains. Weed growths have been retarded also, which will give the crops a good start on them this year.

Planting Completed
Practically all planting was completed by June 15, except flax and corn at some northern points where climatic conditions have been particularly unfavorable. There was less than normal abandonment of the winter grains, which has resulted in an upward movement of the average tilled acreage per farm and per farmer. There was an excess of available farm labor on June 1 in practically all sections of the district.

Farmers in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana have reserved nearly two million more acres for corn, flax, potatoes and tame hay in 1924 than in 1923, providing approximately the same proportion of plow lands are cropped in 1924 as were cropped last year. The United States Department of Agriculture estimates, prepared by the Agricultural Statistician in each state, indicate that there are 600,000 less acres of rye this year ago, a reduction of nearly 23 per cent, and 11-2 million less acres of spring wheat, a reduction of 140,000 acres in barley, and a similar increase in oats, together with a small increase of 20,000 acres in winter wheat, accounts for 300,000 acres of the reduction in spring wheat and rye, leaving 1,800,000 acres additional to last year for crops the acreage of which have not yet been reported. These crops are corn, potatoes, flax and tame hay. A large proportion of the expected increased flax plantings will probably be on new ground, which will further increase the area to be planted to these four crops.

Pastures were short and hay prospects have suffered from the lack of moisture during May, and the cool weather. The June 1 condition of tame hay was several points below

FISHER HEADS N. D. BANKERS FOR NEW YEAR

Devils Lake Man Is Elected at Annual Convention Held in Fargo

Fargo, June 27.—Blanding Fisher of Devils Lake, president of the Ramsey county National Bank, was elected president of the North Dakota Bankers' Association, preceding adjournment of the 22nd annual convention today. Ed. Pierce of Sheldon was chosen vice-president, and the treasurer will be selected at a meeting of the executive committee this afternoon.

Resolutions were adopted pledging support to all intelligent effort to develop agriculture, approving of legislation which seeks to limit branch banking to those states in which it is now practiced opposing laws providing for tax exemption of public securities, pledging North Dakota Association, condemning movements which seek to lessen the authority of the United States Supreme Court and to enact unconstitutional proposals and opposing attempts to bond the state for the purpose of paying the debts of its banking institutions.

NO BODIES IN WRECK OF N. P.

Everything Possible Done, Says Superintendent

The cars in the wreck east of Bismarck have been moved from the ditch, as well as the cars that were under the coal, and everything has been done that can be done to ascertain whether any bodies are buried in the wreck but none have been found, according to a telegram received from W. E. Berner, of Jamestown, superintendent of this division on the N. P.

The head brakeman was over the train before the accident, Mr. Werner said, and Loomis, the man who suffered a broken leg in the wreck, stated to the sheriff that he had seen no other men on the train.

"We are certain that there are no bodies in the wreckage," Mr. Berner stated in his message.

Besides the wrecking crew from the railroad, the sheriff's office had a man supervising the work all the time.

HELD AFTER CAR CRASH

Fargo Man Charged With Manslaughter

Fargo, N. D., June 27.—Andrew Vlahos, or Andrew Vlahopoulos, as he also is known, held responsible Thursday by a coroner's jury, for the death of Mrs. May Wagner in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon, when his car crashed into an electric light pole at Tenth street and First Avenue N., surrendered to Fargo police Thursday night.

A warrant charging Vlahos with second degree manslaughter, was issued Thursday afternoon, after the coroner's jury returned its verdict, on complaint of H. F. Berner, Cass county attorney. A city warrant, charging Vlahos with violating a city traffic ordinance, was issued earlier in the day.

Vlahos was hunted all day Thursday by the authorities. He could not be found, however, and residents in the neighborhood of 517 Fourth street N., where Vlahos lived, reported he had not come home since shortly after the accident Wednesday.

At 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Vlahos appeared voluntarily at police headquarters. He was immediately placed under arrest, and was arraigned before Justice J. K. Bingham, Vlahos's bond was set at $2,000, in default of which he was committed to the Cass county jail.

GIDEONS WILL BANQUET HERE

Mayor Smart of Minot Will Be Presiding Officer

The local unit of Gideons is sponsoring a banquet to be held in the Grand Pacific Saturday, June 28, at 7, to which everyone interested in the Gideons and their work are invited.

Mayor Smart of Minot and Governor Nestos will be the chief speakers at the banquet, while music will be provided by a male chorus of men in the city. The speakers will aid in familiarizing those present with the work of the Gideons, which is to present the task of bible to the state of North Dakota.

Nineteen thousand bibles will be needed to complete the work, and the Gideons plan to do this during the month of June. Two carloads of the bibles will start from New York, covered with placards advertising the fact that they will be placed in the hotel of North Dakota.

Presiding at the banquet will be A. L. Bishop, state president. A committee consisting of R. G. Schwantes, vice-president of Gideons, William Schwartz of New Salem, Henry Halvorsen, and William Noggle all of this city, are in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

The Ministerial association, with Dr. S. P. Halfyard as president, are backing the Gideons in their work. They have called a meeting for this afternoon to outline a course of action in assisting the local unit.

DISABLED VET MAKING GOOD OUT ON FARM

One Near Bemidji, Minnesota, Is Reported to be Getting Along Well

Many disabled veterans, when they came out of the army and realized that they had no definite place in the industrial life of the country set about making a place for themselves, in true pioneer spirit. With a desire for independence aroused in them, the idea of working for some one else met with little favor. They wanted to be "on their own."

Hundreds of such men, with physical disabilities incurred in the military service, are being helped back into economic independence by the U. S. Veterans Bureau in two specific ways. They are being given systematic instruction in agriculture by a corps of traveling instructors who teach each man on his own little farm, all the essentials of scientific agriculture, and also by granting each one a monthly maintenance allowance, ranging from $80 to $170 a month, according to the number and relationship of his dependents, during his period of training.

Because of space limitations it will be possible to mention only three instances of what they are doing. One man bought a 40 acre farm, on a good road, only a few miles from Bemidji, Minnesota. When purchased, this place had eight acres under cultivation, a comfortable house, a well, a new barn, a poultry house, and a garden with a number of small fruit trees. The financial support of a local bank was secured and this semi-improved farm was bought under a contract for a deed.

This man showed sound judgment in selecting his farm, has met every financial obligation promptly, co-operates well with his instructors, and does his farm work so well that he can be scored 100 percent every month. His poultry and cows are already producing him a nice monthly revenue.

Another man, near Pinewood, Minnesota, began his operations on a piece of wild land. This he is clearing with his own hands, doing his own stump blasting, burning, plowing, planting, and harvesting. He has built a comfortable house, a good barn and out-buildings, all within the space of two years. This has not been an easy task, with his physical disability, but his ultimate success is certain because he takes good care of his health, as he does his other resources. In short, while developing his farm in the pioneer way, we find a well balanced man upon what will be a well balanced farm. Already this man has a considerable income from his poultry and other products.

Still another man, ambitious and adventurous located in northern Minnesota, near the Canadian border. He bought 120 acres of land, with fifty acres broken. He made most of his own furniture, married a pioneer girl, and set himself to the task of developing a farm. He has opened up 40 additional acres, built a barn and poultry house, enlarged his dwelling house, fenced the land, and bought some cows. Prosperity reigns, and the patter of little feet is heard. The place is now a real home. Responsibility rests upon him, and opportunity beckons. The Veterans Bureau traveling instructor is frequently at hand to help him with his difficulties.

These instances might be multiplied. These plucky veterans are "carrying on" as successfully in peace pursuits as they did in their war duties.

SEC. MELLON ON STAND

Testimony Fails to Implicate Him in Liquor Sales

New York, June 27.—With Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, on the witness stand, summoned by the defense in the trial of Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, and his secretary, Elmer Jarncke, charged with violating the prohibition law, counsel for Means today failed in an attempt to show that Means was dismissed because he exposed an illegal withdrawal of whiskey from a distillery in Pittsburgh, partly owned by Mr. Mellon.

Secretary Mellon admitted that he once had owned an interest in the Overholt distillery but said that his first knowledge of Means' investigation of the distillery had come when he read the testimony given before the senate committee. Mr. Mellon added that the distillery company since had been liquidated and that he now had no connection with it.

To questions as to whether forged permits for withdrawal of 42,000 gallons of whiskey from the distillery had been deposited by a man named Goodman as collateral for a loan from the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh, in which the secretary is interested, Mr. Mellon replied that this was not true.

BARNES COUNTY VOTE

Valley City, June 28.—With Pillsbury village and Ellsberry township missing in the tabulation of Barnes county votes, the following results were given on governor: Mos 552; Nestos 1,931; and Sorlie 1,513. In 1922 Nestos received 76 and Lemke 109 in the two missing precincts together with Greenland township which is included in the above tabulation.

With Pillsbury village, Ellsberry, and Greenland townships missing, the vote on district judge in the county was: Cole 1908; Cooley 2,421; Englebert 3,613; and Shipley, 1,418.

With the same three precincts missing the vote on supreme court judges was: Burke 2024; Coghlan 1097; Feehan 171; Fisk 509; Grimsom 260; and Hellstrom 270.

For State Superintendent: Conn 394; Nielson 1422; and Palmer 2,481.

STARK COUNTY

Dickinson, N. D., June 28.—With three county precincts out—Antelope, Farmers Valley and Beaver Creek—the winners in the hotly contested fights are, Turner, sheriff; Keller, registrar of deeds, and Wanner clerk of courts.

Nestos easily carried Dickinson and Stark county, receiving over 1700 votes with both his opponents polling less than 1300 with three precincts missing.

The fight for the representatives jobs was hotly contested, with Chas. H. Starker, Herndon, R., present incumbents and John F. Zimmerman leading by safe majorities.

The fight for the official newspaper is very close. The Dickinson Press has a lead over the Recorder-Post of 64 votes, with three county precincts still out.

VOTE IS LIGHT

Beach, N. D., June 28.—The election Wednesday passed off quietly, so quietly that, at least in Beach, only about 45 per cent of the people voted; in Beach Civil Township No. 2 there were 61 votes registered and 80 cast, with one an absolute blank and another with but four crosses at the tail end of the ticket. In Lone Tree township the assessor is said to have failed to register most of the people with the result that about half a vote was polled there. On governor the vote in Beach this election is 99 less than it was two years ago, or 201 short of the number registered, and as every Leaguer entitled to vote seems to have done his duty, it is a safe inference that the delinquency lies at the door of the Independents.

McLEAN VOTE LIGHT

Washburn, N. D., June 28.—The vote in McLean county was also light, as was throughout the state. In Washburn there were over 100 votes not cast. The same was true in other towns as well as in the rural precincts.

The vote on the governor from the 38 precincts received, out of the 59, as compared with the same precincts in November 1922 follows: Nestos 937; Sorlie 1,582. In 1922, Nestos 1,707; Lemke 1,795.

The balance of the state ticket in the county went about the same as for the governor.

All the county offices but judge had no opposition, and in the race between Ben Wiese and P. H. Miller, Miller has a majority. M. O. Almquist of Roseglen, had stickers for the office of auditor and received some votes.

LEAGUE GAINS IN FIGHT FOR LEGISLATURE

And Foster, Pierce, and Logan and McIntosh and two in Burleigh.

In the last session the Independents had 58 votes and the League had 55 votes in the House.

Independents are assured of three House members from Pembina, three from Cavalier, one from Walsh, three from Grand Forks, three from Traill, seven from Cass, four from Stutsman, four from Richland, two from Ransom, one from Sargent, one from Burleigh, one from Pierce, three from Ramsey, four from Ward, three from Stark, two from Morton, one from Nelson, two from Towner, one from Eddy, two from Wells and one in Griggs and Eddy, a total of 55.

They can also count on the members from the 15th district in Barnes county, which includes the city of Valley City, even though the League defeated the Independent for the Republican nomination.

To control 57 votes are required. The Independents had 58 in the last session and the Leaguers had 55.

One of the hotly contested nominations for the House was in the Fifth district, western Grand Forks, where P. J. Hanson, Independent, was finally returned victor in a three way fight.

BLOODSHED IS FEARED DURING FLOOR CONTEST

organized immediately after its appointment Tuesday, how the committee had been in almost continuous session until last night when it reported to the full committee.

"I have never seen a sub-committee that worked together with greater harmony," he said.

"Every member has worked faithfully to draft a platform that would commensurate with the opportunities of the party in this campaign."

"The platform will be ready for submission to this convention within a few hours. I think you will be proud of that platform and I think you will regard it as a winning platform."

Apologizes for Voice of his voice. Mr. Cummings said he had had only six hours of sleep since Tuesday.

"I refer to this," he said, "so that you may know we have wasted no time. We have dealt with all the questions before us, except two, in a way that has met the approval of every one of the 54 members of the committee."

"In two instances there have been difference of opinion. There was a difference as to the phraseology to be employed in the plank dealing with the League of Nations. On that plank the majority report will carry with it the signature of a large majority of the committee. A minority report will be submitted, I understand, by Mr. Baker of Ohio."

The Differences
"These differences are but a part of the story. There was one plank on which a great difference arose. The sub-committee was unable to agree and last night the full committee began work to draft a plank dealing with religious freedom. We discussed that plank all night until morning. I regret to say that as the session went on, it became more heated; that the session became somewhat acrimonious. And when we saw that the committee disagreed in that way we began to wonder what would happen if the convention issue were asked to discuss that question. In other words we began to think of the Democratic party—we thought of all that might be involved. And we drew closer together around the counsel table, friends, seeking to find a way so that the country might have the service of a united Democratic party."

German Dance Teachers Are In Favor of Jazz

Cassel, Germany, June 28.—Jazz has been finally approved by the German Dancing Teachers' Association despite efforts of the conservatives who have fought desperately for several years to prevent the old-time waltz from being crowded out.

The radicals within the ranks of the association have been clamoring since 1921 for official recognition of jazz, and at this year's congress of the teachers in Cassel the moderns and the radicals joined forces and by a big majority gave jazz the official stamp of approval.

BEEKEEPERS
WILL MEET
To Hold Session at Grand Forks July 10

Grand Forks, N. D., June 28.—North Dakota beekeepers will meet in Grand Forks for a one-day session July 10. R. L. Webster, entomologist at the North Dakota Agricultural college and secretary of the state beekeepers' association, announces. If the weather permits the meeting will be held at the Richmond Apiary near the city.

Officers of the association are Mark Andrews, Mapleton, president; Charles Hausmann, Hillsboro, vice president; R. L. Webster, Fargo, secretary; E. J. Weiser, Fargo, treasurer. D. B. Morris, county agent of Grand Forks county, is assisting in the local arrangements for the meeting.

Various topics of interest to both the professional and the amateur beekeeper will be subjects for discussion. Dr. M. C. Tanquary of Fargo, who came to North Dakota from Texas to engage in commercial beekeeping, is slated for a talk on Bee Disease Control.

"The beekeeping industry in North Dakota has shown a healthy growth during the past few months," says Mr. Webster. "In spite of winter losses heavier than usual, hives carried through the winter have built up into strong colonies which are now overflowing with bees. The main honey flow, which comes from sweet clover, will be late in starting this year, but prospects for a good crop are bright."

"The backward spring was very hard on package bees shipped in from the south, which usually are able to build up into strong colonies by the time of the year. Once the honey flow starts, however, these bees will increase sufficiently in numbers so that a surplus is assured by the end of the season."

"One great advantage of sweet clover as a honey plant is the fact that it blossoms late in the season, by which time the bees have had plenty of chance to form strong colonies."

THE ELTINGE
One of the greatest announcements yet made to film patrons of this city is the engagement of "Beau Brummel" at the Eltinge Theatre next Monday for three days. What gives curiosity and expectation a spur is the fact that John Barrymore, America's greatest dramatic actor, has the starring part, and that the screen version is from the Clyde Fitch play, immortalized by Richard Mansfield.

The three angles underlying the theme of "Beau Brummel" are the fickleness of fortune, the test of friendship, and the instability of popularity. Because of his intimacy with the Prince of Wales, Beau Brummel is able to influence his creditors and make himself the arbiter of English society. Women flock to his rooms in the vain effort to pick up the fragments of a heart hiding its ache behind the fripperies of clothes. At the height of his popularity, his salient wit makes an undiplomatic remark, which precipitates him into a deluge of misfortune.

While the William Fox production, "No Mother to Guide Her," is essentially a gripping drama of life in the raw, it has its humorous moments even as the most serious life now and then gets its smile. The picture will open a two-day engagement at the Capitol theatre on Monday.

The story deals with the lives of two girls, one a daughter of the rich, the other penniless. Their experiences combine to present a powerful story in which evil is conquered by good despite almost insurmountable obstacles.

Discovers Gas Well in Yard
Salt Lake City, June 28. (A. P.)—The much heralded high price of light gas and fuel means absolutely nothing to Henry Nebeker of Salt Lake City, for he has a natural gas well in the rear yard of his home. Drilling to a depth of 535 feet, Nebeker encountered enough gas to take care of all his home needs and he has a 300-gallon water tank for storage purposes.

Nebeker has estimated that the flow from his well is about 24 times what he possibly can use, but as yet he has made no attempt to supply other residents of his neighborhood.

Drug Habit Invades Japan
Tokio, June 28.—The drug habit evil is invading Japan, according to leading physicians, and is finding many of its victims among theatrical people. It has become known that the recent death of Sinosuke Sawamura, one of the leading actors of Japan, was due to narcotic poisoning.

Physicians are urging stricter government and police control of the drug habit, which until recent years has not been serious in this country.

MACREADY'S LEAP FOR LIFE

This is the artist's conception of the parachute jump of Lieut. John A. Macready, shatterer of air records, near McCook field, Dayton, O. The army ace was forced to make the leap when his engine "died" while he was returning from a flight to Columbus, O. He cut loose while 1500 feet above ground. Farmers found him dangling from a limb of a tree and cut him down. The lower picture shows all that was left of his plane.

cently, obscuring the sun, ravaging the countryside and leaving desolation in their wake. In places they settled over railroad tracks and held up the trains.

"Freeing the county of scrub sires is the goal we have set," declares Mr. Baker, "and it is probable that the work in exchanging, buying and selling sires will continue until that goal is reached. We are also devoting considerable time to discussing with farmers the best methods of feeding, care and management of the livestock."

Grade Holsteins, Guernsey, and Milking Shorthorn cows and heifers are greatly in demand in the county, Mr. Baker reports. County Agent Vanceura is keeping a record of the inquiries for these animals and expects to purchase a few carloads from other states.

"During the campaign it has been the aim to use as far as possible the stock that is already in the county," Mr. Baker reports. "When this stock is exhausted we shall have to buy stock from outside the county. When stock is bought near at home there is less transportation expense as well as less danger of contagious diseases. Farmers were urged during the campaign to grow into the livestock business gradually rather than going into it suddenly on a large scale. We feel that the cheapest improvement is by getting purebred sires."

Attendance on Increase at German College

Berlin, June 28. (A. P.)—The number of students matriculated at German universities has risen from 94,000 in 1913 to 148,000 in 1923. The increase in the number of women students has been especially large, having risen from 5,000 to 12,000. The technical institutions show an increase of 100 per cent, schools of commerce 90 per cent, academies of art 15 per cent, and the universities proper 40 per cent.

One reason for the increase is the fact that young men from the better families no longer can go on to the army. With the detroning of militarism in Germany some 32,000 officers' berths have become non-existent.

WILL INSPECT CROPS IN STATE TO SELECT SEED

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—Crops of the state will be inspected next month by the field crop inspection and seed laboratory forces of the North Dakota Agricultural college, Dean H. L. Bolley, biologist at the college announces.

Special effort will be made upon brome grass, alfalfa, flax and potatoes, according to Mr. Bolley, although the inspectors will pay careful attention to any crop that seems likely to produce seed of high quality. Any farmer who requests it may have inspection of any of his fields and crops provided his farm is within reach, promises the biologist.

Field crop inspection is carried on in connection with the work of seed certification. The report of the inspectors is considered at the time the seed is analyzed at the seed laboratory and these reports very largely determine whether the seed will be certified and state listed. These lists put the growers of certified seed in touch with the buyers and in this way furnish a market for the good seed as well as providing high class seed for the growers next year, Mr. Bolley says.

"Field crop inspection pays," declares Mr. Bolley. Gradually it is being learned that those states which carry on the most careful field crop inspection are getting the best prices on the seed market. This has been found especially true in the case of potatoes as in this crop there are numerous diseases which cut down the yield. The Michigan Experiment Station reports that a loss of 35 bushels per acre occurred on Green Mountain potatoes affected with a mild form of mosaic as compared with the crop from healthy tubers.

"The destruction from this disease in the gulf state is far greater than in the northwestern states like Michigan and North Dakota. Farmers who wish to have any of their crops inspected should communicate with the state seed commissioner at the college or fill out one of the application blanks for field inspection."

Cleveland, June 27.—Shape your own career! You can do a better job of it than anyone else. Marlon LeRoy Burton believes that. He believes it thoroughly. He states his theory convincingly. Life can not be standardized. We are all captains of our own ships. He doesn't point to his own success and the achievements of his children as proof of his theory, but this is just where the proof lies. Burton was born in Brooklyn, La., 50 years ago. Left fatherless at an early age he sold papers on the streets of Minneapolis. He worked in a drug store. He read much and studied more. He wanted an education and he got it.

Burton's oldest child, Theodosia, now 22, went to Vassar, but graduated from Michigan. Of 17 study hours 15 were "A's" and two were "B's." She recently married George R. Stewart Jr., an instructor in the University of California.

Paul Leonard Burton is 18. He graduated from Culver Military Institute just the other day. He is five feet ten, weighs 165, played tackle on the football team and is an aviator. In his studies he stood sixth in his class and twelfth in the student body of 700.

Jane, the youngest child, completed her freshman year in high school at Ann Arbor this year. She is only 12 and still plays with her pet doll.

Likes To Fish
"This was the first country that obligated itself to educate everyone," he said. "We haven't done that as yet, but we have done more than any other country to afford everyone the chance to progress to the farthest limit of his inherent capabilities."

There was earnestness, conviction in the voice of Burton as he said that. He had just unfolded his six feet two inches of body from the chair in which he sprawled. His lips were in one thin line. Something keen and hard gleamed in his brown eyes as he fixed them on the interviewer. He was in dead earnest. Otherwise his words might have seemed bromidic, after-dinnerish.

"Any fellow can get along here. That is the glory of America. All he needs is his own pep, his own steam, his own will to do."

In Ann Arbor, Mich., where Burton receives $24,000 a year as president of the University of Michigan, they tell you he is not always so serious.

He is one of the liveliest of the Rotarians. His fellow members call him "Mary Ann."

Almost every day you can find Burton in his backyard pitching horseshoes with Dr. John Sundwall, director of student welfare.

He plays tennis and golf, but next to horseshoe-pitching he likes best fishing, boating and swimming. Each summer Papa and Mama Burton, whom he calls Nina, take the family up to Cass Lake in Minnesota. Papa chops the wood, makes the fire and does the outside chores and Mama cooks, washes and cleans.

It is very probable that the similar domestic qualities of Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge form the strongest tie between the two families.

He's Red-Headed
When Burton was president of Smith College and Coolidge was mayor of Northampton, Mass., their wives were engaged in the ladies aid and missionary activities of the Jonathan Edwards Congregational Church.

When Burton left Smith College it was to become president of the University of Minnesota. In 1920 he became president of the University of Michigan. He raised ten million dollars for a building program.

In Michigan they say he can do things because he has a dynamic, magnetic personality.

"I'm just an ordinary red-headed fellow with some sand in my gizzard," he describes himself.

And if Burton becomes vice president, he witnesses the fulfillment of one of his great dreams—two Main Street men starting from scratch and winning out.

And both are red-heads.

TRENCH SILOS
FOUND HELPEFUL
IN PEMBINA CO.

Many Being Used as Result of a Tour Made by Many Farmers

COST IS VERY SMALL

Walhalla, N. D., June 28.—Hundreds of Pembina county farmers learned how to provide storage facilities for feed at a cost ranging from nothing up, as a result of the trench silo tour to Canada organized by County Agent E. G. Parizek which was held Monday of this week. Attendance on the tour totaled nearly 1,000, as 132 cars checked through at Haskett and a number of other points.

Four trench silos were inspected on the trip, a picnic luncheon was enjoyed at Carman, a program was held there, and the experimental station at Morden was inspected on the way home. Reports of the farmers visited were universally in favor of the trench silos in the Carman vicinity, and more than one hundred will be built there this fall.

Of the trench silos visited, none were constructed in the same way, their only common characteristic being "a hole in the ground." Some were built mostly above ground, others mostly below. Material of every description was used for lining the sides above ground, and some were lined below to prevent caving. Poplar poles, chicken wire, straw and dirt were used to construct coverings for the silos.

Advantages for the trench silos which were brought out on the trip were the cheapness of construction, ease of filling, absence of freezing. Disadvantages, if the trench silo is not properly built, include caving in and spoilage of silage. Wherever air spaces are left along the walls, air, through irregularities or insufficient packing, the silage is apt to spoil, according to the reports of the farmers visited. By sloping the sides and not leaving any irregularities, this difficulty can be overcome, however.

One of the best trench silos visited was that of James Houston a mile south of Houston. The sides were sloped and the silo was six feet above ground and four feet below.

The upper part being constructed of heavy timbers. The top of the silo was 20 by 25 feet, sloping down to about 14 feet in width at the bottom. Mr. Houston stated that the capacity was 110 tons. He won first prize on an exhibit of silage from all types of silos at the provincial fair last winter. Trench silos were also visited at the farms of A. W. Badger and Frank Loree southwest of Carman and at the W. R. Lewis farm two miles east of that city.

County Agent Parizek presided at the program which was held at the Carman fairgrounds following the picnic dinner. Mayor Eke of Carman extended a very cordial welcome to the visitors from Pembina county and told them to disregard the "imaginary line" which separated the two counties and come up to visit any time. Other speakers included Professor Harrison of the Agricultural college at Winnipeg, James Houston, farmer, and George J. Baker, livestock specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

The Cavalier city band made the tour and played a number of selections at Carman and Morden, where the numbers were given a very pleasing reception. The last visit was made at the experimental farm where the visitors saw many varieties of shrubbery, fruit and flowers, a magnificent herd of Ayrshire cattle, and the many crop rotations and trial plots which are maintained there.

Some delay was occasioned in leaving Walhalla, due to the fact that 45 cars had failed to register Sunday with Mr. Parizek, but the 87 cars who did register were checked through expeditiously both at Walhalla and Haskett. The struggles soon caught up, however, and practically all made the complete trip and every stop.

W. L. Smith, candidate for states attorney, today issued the following statement:
"Because of the remarkably large vote given me for State's Attorney at the primaries, taking into consideration the conditions surrounding my candidacy—I wish to publicly express my appreciation for the loyalty of my friends, and that I have as many of them as the votes demonstrate. I desire to have my friends understand why I did not win, or rather why I didn't get on the ballot for the fall election, as receiving the vote I did under the circumstances makes me feel more of a winner than can one who is able to get on the ballot solely because of the support of a political faction. two political factions, the I. V. A. and the League, and at this primary there was a very hard and close fight made by each faction. The I. V. A. organization supported Mr. McCurdy and the League Mr. Allen. Practically all voters belonged to either one or the other of these organizations, so that there was nothing left for me. It would seem then impossible for me to get any significant number of votes. Yet I did get more than one fourth of all the votes cast, and I needed only one third of all votes to be nominated. The common saying "A yellow dog will win supported by a dominant political party or faction" is so frequently demonstrated that I prefer to lose with such a large showing of friends than to have won through the support of a political organization."

G. Parizek which was held Monday of this week. Attendance on the tour totaled nearly 1,000, as 132 cars checked through at Haskett and a number of others crossed the line at Neche and other points.

Four trench silos were inspected on the trip, a picnic luncheon was enjoyed at Carman, a program was held there, and the experimental station at Morden was inspected on the way home. Reports of the farmers visited were universally in favor of the trench silos in the Carman vicinity, and more than one hundred will be built there this fall.

Of the trench silos visited, none were constructed in the same way, their only common characteristic being "a hole in the ground." Some were built mostly above ground, others mostly below. Material of every description was used for lining the sides above ground, and some were lined below to prevent caving. Poplar poles, chicken wire, straw and dirt were used to construct coverings for the silos.

Advantages for the trench silos which were brought out on the trip were the cheapness of construction, ease of filling, absence of freezing. Disadvantages, if the trench silo is not properly built, include caving in and spoilage of silage. Wherever air spaces are left along the walls, either through irregularities or insufficient packing, the silage is apt to spoil, according to the reports of the farmers visited. By sloping the sides and not leaving any irregularities, this difficulty can be overcome, however.

One of the best trench silos visited was that of James Houston a mile south of Houston. The sides were sloped and the silo was six feet above ground and four feet below.

the upper part being constructed of heavy timbers. The top of the silo was 20 by 35 feet, sloping down to about 14 feet in width at the bottom. Mr. Houston stated that the capacity was 110 tons. He won first prize on an exhibit of silage from this silo in competition with silage from all types of silos at the provincial fair last winter. Trench silos were also visited at the farms of A. W. Badger and Frank Lorse southwest of Carman and at the W. R. Lewis farm two miles east of that city.

County Agent Parizek presided at the program which was held at the Carman fairgrounds following the picnic dinner. Mayor Ebe of Carman extended a very cordial welcome to the visitors from Pembina county and told them to disregard the "imaginary line" which separated the two countries and come up to visit any time. Other speakers included Professor Harrison of the Agricultural college at Winnipeg, James Houston, farmer, and George J. Baker, livestock specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

The Cavalier city band made the tour and played a number of selections at Carman and Morden, where the numbers were given a very pleasing reception. The last visit was made at the experimental farm where the visitors saw many varieties of shrubbery, fruit and flowers, a magnificent herd of Ayrshire cattle, and the many crop rotations and trial plots which are maintained there.

Some delay was occasioned in leaving Walhalla, due to the fact that 45 cars had failed to register Sunday with Mr. Parizek, but the 87 cars who did register were checked through expeditiously both at Walhalla and Haskett. The strangers soon caught up, however, and practically all made the complete trip and every stop.

STATEMENT ON COUNTY RACE

W. L. Smith, candidate for states attorney, today issued the following statement:

"Because of the remarkably large vote given me for State's Attorney at the primaries, taking into consideration the conditions surrounding my candidacy—I wish to publicly express my appreciation for the loyalty of my friends, and that I have as many of them as the votes demonstrate. I desire to have my friends understand why I did not win, or rather why I didn't get on the ballot for the fall election, as receiving the vote I did under the circumstances makes me feel more of a winner than can one who is able to get on the ballot solely because of the support of a political faction. As everyone knows the voters of the county are divided in two political factions, the I. V. A. and the League, and at this primary there was a very hard and close fight made by each faction. The I. V. A. organization supported Mr. McCurdy and the League Mr. Allen. Practically all voters belonged to either one or the other of these organizations, so that there was nothing left for me. It would seem then impossible for me to get any significant number of votes. Yet I did get more than one fourth of all the votes cast, and I needed only one third of all votes to be nominated. The common saying "A yellow dog will win supported by a dominant political party or faction" is so frequently demonstrated that I prefer to lose with such a large showing of friends than to have won through the support of a political organization."

BARNES COUNTY VOTE
Valley City, June 22.—With Pillsbury village and Ellsbury township missing in the tabulation of Barnes county votes, the following results were given on governor: Moe 559; Nestos 1,931; Sorlie 1,513. In 1922 Nestos received 76 and Lemke 109 in the two missing precincts together with Greenland township which is included in the above tabulation.

With Pillsbury village, Ellsbury, and Greenland townships missing, the vote on district judge in the county was: Cole 1,998; Cooley 2,421; Engler 3,613; and Shipley, 1,418.

With the same three precincts missing the vote on supreme court judges was: Burke 2024; Coghlan 1097; Feetham 171; Fisk 509; Grimsom 260, and Hellstrom 270.

For State Superintendent: Conn 394; Nielson 1428, and Palmer 2481.

STARK COUNTY
Dickinson, N. D., June 22.—With three country precincts out—Antelope, Farmers Valley and Beaver Creek—the winners in the hotly contested fights are, Turner, sheriff; Keller, registrar of deeds, and Wanner clerk of courts.

Nestos easily carried Dickinson and Stark county, receiving over 1700 votes with both his opponents polling less than 1300 with three precincts missing.

The fight for the representatives job was hotly contested, with E. H. Stark, H. Baker, and J. Zimmerman in the running. Stark, who was incumbent, and John F. Zimmerman leading by safe majorities.

The fight for official newspaper is very close. The Dickinson Press has a lead over the Recorder-Post of 64 votes, with three country precincts still out.

VOTE IS LIGHT
Beach, N. D., June 22.—The election Wednesday passed off quietly, so quietly that, at least in Beach, only about 65 per cent of the people voted; in Beach Civil Township No. 2 there were 61 votes registered and 30 cast, with one an absolute blank and another with but four crosses at the tail end of the ticket. In Lone Tree township the assessor is said to have failed to register most of the people with the result that about half a vote was polled there. On governor the vote in Beach this election is 501 short of the number registered, and an every League candidate has been able to have done his duty. It is a safe inference that the delinquency lies at the door of the Independent.

MACREADY'S LEAP FOR LIFE

This is the artist's conception of the parachute jump of Lieut. John A. Macready, shatterer of air records, near Cook Field, Dayton, O. The army was forced to make the leap with his engine "died" while he was returning from a flight to Columbus, O. He cut loose while 1500 feet above ground. Farmers found him dangling from a limb of a tree and cut him down. The lower picture shows all that was left of his plane.

cultural college, who assisted in the work in Wells county.

"Freeing the county of scrub sires is the goal we have set," declares Mr. Baker, "and it is probable that the work in exchanging, buying and selling sires will continue until that goal is reached. We are also devoting considerable time to discussing with farmers the best methods of feeding, care and management of the livestock."

Grade Holsteins, Guernseys, and Milking Shorthorn cows and heifers are greatly in demand in the county. Mr. Baker reports: County Agent Vancura is keeping a record of the inquiries for these animals and expects to purchase a few carloads from other states.

"During the campaign it has been the aim to use as far as possible the stock that is already in the county," Mr. Baker reports. "When this stock is bought near at home there is less transportation expense as well as less danger of contagious diseases. Farmers were urged during the campaign to grow into the live-stock business gradually rather than go in all at once on a large scale. We feel that the cheapest improvement is by getting purebred sires."

German Dance Teachers Are In Favor of Jazz

Cassel, Germany, June 22.—Jazz has been finally approved by the German Dancing Teachers' Association despite efforts of the conservatives who have fought desperately for several years to prevent the old-time waltz from being crowded out.

The radicals within the ranks of the association have been clamoring since 1921 for official recognition of jazz, and at this year's congress of the teachers in Cassel the modern and the radicals joined forces, and by a big majority gave jazz the official stamp of approval.

LOCUSTS STOP TRAINS
Rome, June 27.—Thick swarms of locusts descended over Sardinia recently, obscuring the sun, ravaging the country-side and leaving desolation in their wake. In places they settled over railroad tracks and held up the trains.

"One great advantage of sweet clover as a honey plant is the fact that it blossoms late in the season, by which time the bees have had plenty of chance to form strong colonies."

flow starts, however, these bees will increase sufficiently in numbers so that a surplus is assured by the end of the season.

BEEKEEPERS WILL MEET

To Hold Session at Grand Forks July 10

Grand Forks, N. D., June 22.—North Dakota beekeepers will meet in Grand Forks for a one-day session July 10. R. L. Webster, entomologist at the North Dakota Agricultural college and secretary of the state beekeepers' association, announces. If the weather permits the meeting will be held at the Richmond Apatry near the city.

Officers of the association are Mark Andrews, Mapleton, president; Charles Hausmann, Hillsboro, vice president; R. L. Webster, Fargo, secretary; E. J. Weiser, Fargo, treasurer; D. B. Morris, county agent of Grand Forks county, is assisting in the local arrangements for the meeting.

Various topics of interest to both the professional and the amateur beekeeper will be subjects for discussion. Dr. M. C. Tanquary of Fargo, who came to North Dakota from Texas to engage in commercial beekeeping, is slated for a talk on Bee Disease Control.

"The beekeeping industry in North Dakota has shown a healthy growth during the past few months," says Mr. Webster. "In spite of winter losses heavier than usual, hives built through the winter have built up into strong colonies which are now overflowing with bees. The main honey flow, which comes from sweet clover, will be late in starting this year, but prospects for a good crop are bright."

The backward spring was very hard on package bees shipped in from the south, which usually are able to build up into strong colonies by this time of the year. Once the honey

Discovers Gas Well in Yard

Salt Lake City, June 22. (A. P.)—The much heralded high price of light gas and fuel means absolutely nothing to Henry Nebeker of Salt Lake City, for he has a natural gas well in the rear yard of his home. Drilling to a depth of 535 feet, Nebeker encountered enough gas to take care of all his home needs and he has a 300-gallon water tank for storage purposes.

Nebeker has estimated that the flow from his well is about 24 times what he possibly can use, but as yet he has made no attempt to supply other residents of his neighborhood.

Drug Habit Invades Japan

Tokio, June 22.—The drug habit evil is invading Japan, according to leading physicians, and is finding many of its victims among theatrical people. It has become known that the recent death of Sasakura Sawamura, one of the leading actors of Japan, was due to narcotic poisoning.

Physicians are urging stricter government and police control of the drug habit, which until recent years has not been serious in this country.

Factious comments on various platform issues were waived in the eyes of delegates to the Democratic Convention when a veritable gamut of sign bearers, in all sorts of garb, had to be run by persons attending. Convention fans bore a pasadistic slogan: "Law, Not War." Pickets carried signs reading "Law, Not War" and "Outlaw War" signed by the "Black Eagle Prisoners." A "Black Eagle" was made up to resemble Wm. Anderson, former anti-saloon league chief in New York, now in prison.

SANDWICHMEN HECKLE DELEGATES

St. Paul, Minn., June 22.—A group of delegates to the Democratic Convention were heckled by a group of men in St. Paul, Minn., who were dressed in costumes that resembled the uniforms of the Ku Klux Klan. The delegates were walking through the city streets, and the hecklers were shouting slogans and making threats. The police were called, but the hecklers refused to disperse.

ATTENDANCE INCREASE AT GERMAN COLLEGE

Berlin, June 22. (A. P.)—The number of students matriculated at German universities has risen from 94,000 in 1913 to 148,000 in 1923. The increase in the number of women students has been especially large, having risen from 5,000 to 12,000. The technical institutions show an increase of 100 per cent, schools of commerce 90 per cent, academies of art 15 per cent, and the universities proper 40 per cent.

One reason for the increase is the fact that young men from the better families no longer can go into the army. With the detroning of militarism in Germany some 32,000 officers' berths have become non-existent.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who assisted in the last rites for our beloved husband and father, for their kindly words of sympathy, for the special kindnesses of our neighbors, and the pastors.

WILL INSPECT CROPS IN STATE TO SELECT SEED

Fargo, N. D., June 22.—Crops of the state will be inspected next month by the field crop inspection and pure seed laboratory forces of the North Dakota Agricultural college, Dean H. L. Bolley, biologist at the college announces. Special effort will be made upon beans, grass, alfalfa, flax and potatoes, according to Mr. Bolley, although the inspectors will pay careful attention to any crop that seems likely to produce seed of high quality. Any farmer who requests it may have inspection of any of his fields and crops provided his farm is within reach, promises the biologist. Field crop inspection is carried on in connection with the work of seed certification. The report of the inspector is considered at the time the seed is analyzed at the seed laboratory and these reports vary largely determine whether the seed will be certified and state listed. These lists put the growers of certified seed in touch with the buyers and in this way furnish a market for the good seed as well as providing high class seed for the growers next year, Mr. Bolley says.

"Field crop inspection pays," declares Mr. Bolley. "Gradually it is being learned that those states which carry on the most careful field crop inspection are getting the best prices on the seed market. This has been found especially true in the case of potatoes as in this crop there are numerous diseases which cut down the yield. The Michigan Experiment Station reports that a loss of 35 bushels per acre occurred on Green Mountain potatoes affected with a mild form of mosaic as compared with the crop from healthy tubers."

"The destruction from this disease in the Gulf state is far greater than it is in the northern states like Michigan and North Dakota. Farmers who wish to have any of their crops inspected should communicate with the state seed commissioner at the college or fill out one of the application blanks for field inspection."

"Field crop inspection pays," declares Mr. Bolley. "Gradually it is being learned that those states which carry on the most careful field crop inspection are getting the best prices on the seed market. This has been found especially true in the case of potatoes as in this crop there are numerous diseases which cut down the yield. The Michigan Experiment Station reports that a loss of 35 bushels per acre occurred on Green Mountain potatoes affected with a mild form of mosaic as compared with the crop from healthy tubers."

"The destruction from this disease in the Gulf state is far greater than it is in the northern states like Michigan and North Dakota. Farmers who wish to have any of their crops inspected should communicate with the state seed commissioner at the college or fill out one of the application blanks for field inspection."

Attendance Increase at German College

Berlin, June 22. (A. P.)—The number of students matriculated at German universities has risen from 94,000 in 1913 to 148,000 in 1923. The increase in the number of women students has been especially large, having risen from 5,000 to 12,000. The technical institutions show an increase of 100 per cent, schools of commerce 90 per cent, academies of art 15 per cent, and the universities proper 40 per cent.

One reason for the increase is the fact that young men from the better families no longer can go into the army. With the detroning of militarism in Germany some 32,000 officers' berths have become non-existent.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who assisted in the last rites for our beloved husband and father, for their kindly words of sympathy, for the special kindnesses of our neighbors, and the pastors.

WILL INSPECT CROPS IN STATE TO SELECT SEED

Fargo, N. D., June 22.—Crops of the state will be inspected next month by the field crop inspection and pure seed laboratory forces of the North Dakota Agricultural college, Dean H. L. Bolley, biologist at the college announces. Special effort will be made upon beans, grass, alfalfa, flax and potatoes, according to Mr. Bolley, although the inspectors will pay careful attention to any crop that seems likely to produce seed of high quality. Any farmer who requests it may have inspection of any of his fields and crops provided his farm is within reach, promises the biologist. Field crop inspection is carried on in connection with the work of seed certification. The report of the inspector is considered at the time the seed is analyzed at the seed laboratory and these reports vary largely determine whether the seed will be certified and state listed. These lists put the growers of certified seed in touch with the buyers and in this way furnish a market for the good seed as well as providing high class seed for the growers next year, Mr. Bolley says.

Country Club Party Enjoyed

The carnival spirit dominated at the brilliant party given last night by the members of the Country Club. The ballroom which was just able to comfortably accommodate those present, were artistically decorated with red, white and blue streamers, while carnations and ferns banded the fireplace.

Conduct and equipage;
Noble by heritage;
Generous and free;

Brave, not romantic;

Still entertaining,
Engaging, and new;

Black Satin Suit

The black satin suit is represented in every smart wardrobe. It may be a strictly tailored affair, or it may be made more subtle and feminine like this one photographed which makes ideal afternoon costume. The jacket blouses slightly at the waistline and the skirt has an extra tunic. It may be worn with a white lingerie blouse or with a more elaborate blouse that is embroidered in colors, as the one in the photograph. Pleatings of ribbon in red and white, trim the coat, and the upstanding collar has a bit of embroidery in the same shades.

The MAIDEN'S CHOICE

Gentle in personage;
Conduct and equipage;
Noble by heritage;
Generous and free;

Brave, not romantic;
Learn'd, not pedantic;
Frolic, not frantic—
This must he be.

Honor maintaining,
Meanness disdaining,
Still entertaining,
Engaging, and new;

Neat, but not finical;
Sage, but not cynical;
Never tyrannical,
But ever true.

—Henry Carey.

Safety of funds is a matter of prime importance to the traveller. Nothing can so detract from the pleasure of a vacation trip as worry about the loss of one's money.

Traveller's cheques will provide safety and eliminate worry. These cheques are, in effect, safe guarded bank notes. They are cashed without question by hotels, railroads, bankers everywhere, only the counter signature of the owner being required. If lost or stolen the owner is protected from loss.

Issued in convenient denominations they constitute a convenient and highly desirable form of travel funds.

THE MODERN LAUNDRY WAY

The old objections to the commercial laundry are rapidly being eliminated.

The ancient idea that clothes finished at the modern laundry were returned with a disagreeable sudsy smell has been eliminated at this place. With our own artesian well giving us fifteen thousand gallons of pure soft water every day, clothes laundered here are rinsed from five to eight times. Using only pure soap, the highest quality of starch and constant inspection of the wash as it goes through the different processes, insures clean sweet smelling laundry.

The saving of money and labor on work sent here is best demonstrated by this one question: "Would you wash a large bedspread for 15c?"

That is our charge. Call us by phone 684 or ask one of our representatives about our

Fabric Body Put Ahead of Metal

Builder Claims Easier, Quieter, Lighter Riding For New Type

By NEA Service
New York, June 28.—Automobile bodies of fabric construction in place of sheet metal have been tested and found serviceable.

This is the report made to the Society of Automotive Engineers here by K. L. Childs, president of a corporation manufacturing fabric auto bodies. After driving a fabric body car 20,000 miles under all kinds of road and climatic conditions, Childs makes these claims:

1. Fabric bodies are quieter than equivalent metal bodies, eliminating most of the drumming and rumbling sounds encountered in sedans.

2. Fabric bodies average from 25 to 110 pounds lighter than corresponding metal bodies.

3. They can be cleaned more easily than the painted metal bodies because the fabric coating is hard and withstands abrasion.

4. All panels are made in sections so that any part of the body that may happen to be dented or injured can be removed without disturbing the rest of the body or any of the interior trimmings.

The last feature, Childs says, has led insurance companies to insure fabric bodies at a lower rate than metal bodies.

At the same time, he adds, construction of fabric bodies is easier, speedier and cheaper. In the end it may mean a reduction of at least 15 per cent in the body costs of cars.

OLDSMOBILE LIGHT SIX SALES GROW

C. H. Hurst, factory representative of the Olds Motor Works of Lansing, Mich., is in town visiting the Oldsmobile Dealers, the Dakota Auto Sales Company.

Mr. Hurst stated this morning that the year 1923 was the greatest year the automobile industry ever experienced.

National Automobile Chamber of Commerce figures just released in the Annual Year Book, show a total of 3,694,237 passenger cars manufactured in 1923. The total registration on January 1st, 1924 was 13,571,411 cars.

Predictions that 1924 business will not equal that of 1923 seems to be refuted when considering total cash sales volume and retail sales figures just made public by the Olds Motor Works of Lansing, Mich., one of the biggest divisions of the General Motors Corporation.

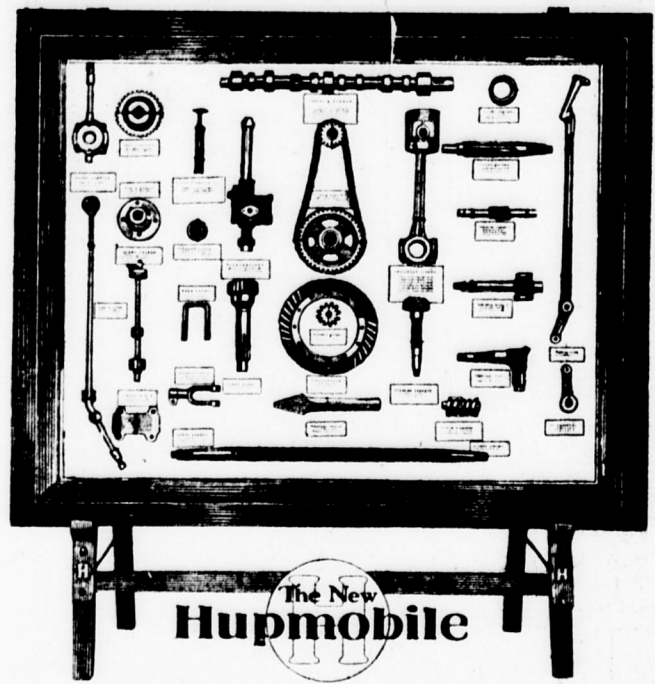

The greatest volume of business in the history of the Olds Motor Works was transacted during the first five months of 1924. This is doubly outstanding inasmuch as this year the Olds Motor Works is selling the lowest priced car it has ever produced in its entire 27 years of manufacturing experience.

With the exception of the famous little curved-dash "Merry Oldsmobile" of 1900. In fact the present Oldsmobile is the lowest priced six cylinder automobile in the world. The total volume of sales in dollars and cents was 80 percent greater for the first five months than it was during the same period last year. The cash business so far this year even exceeds the previous banner year of 1920 by a substantial margin.

Records were also broken in the number of cars sold during the first five months period in January 1924 compared with other years. The total number of cars sold during January, February, March, April and May this year is 51 percent greater than for the same period last year; 138 percent greater than in 1922; 138 percent greater than in 1921 and 67 percent greater than in 1920, the previous high record year in cash sales volume.

In addition to showing an increase for the first five months period, each month's sales exceeded those of the previous month by favorable margins. May figures exceeded those of April by 9 percent, for February by 30 percent, and for January by 50 percent. May retail sales for 1924 also exceeded those for May, 1923 by 81 percent. The above figures pertain to actual sales by dealers to customers and make the Oldsmobile one of the outstanding cars in the industry.

Buyer in Need Of Good Counsel

"The automotive market will be more complex and confusing this year than ever before," says W. E. Lahr of the Lahr Motor Sales Co. "and the car buyer is going to find it no easy matter to satisfy himself as to actual values."

"Competition will be sharply accelerated. There undoubtedly will be close to 4,000,000 cars built in 1924, and high pressure selling will be in order of the day. No prospect for a car but will have a dozen different models urged upon him."

"The simplest and safest way out is for the shopper to pick the dealer before the car. The dealer who makes it his principal business to satisfy car owners rather than to sell car shoppers will not only have a good car, and take good care of the man who buys it, but he will give an honest and unbiased opinion about any technical feature the average citizen may not understand.

"See a good dealer first."

Red Cross Sends Dickinson Check

The National Red Cross organization has sent a check of $500 to Dickinson as its first measure of aid to families rendered destitute by the tornado, according to Miss Mary Cashel of this city. Only five families will need Red Cross aid, it is thought. Other financial assistance will be given, in addition to the $500.

The Guardian of Satisfied Ownership

The motoring public is fast coming to realize that the real guardian of satisfaction in car ownership is the responsibility of the local dealer.

This is the lesson taught by the frequent changes in models and in details of car manufacture. Car specifications change as the industry progresses, but the good automobile dealer maintains at all times a complete ability to serve his owners — old as well as new.

We regard it as our business and obligation to see that everyone who buys a car here shall find satisfaction in its ownership every day that he drives it. Come in and see how we have prepared ourselves to meet this obligation.

OLDSMOBILE DEALERS.
City.

Gentlemen:—

On the street yesterday, while my OLDS TAXI was standing along the curb, a man stepped up to me and asked how I liked my car, mentioning the fact that Taxi work was mighty hard on a car; asked how many miles it had been driven, how easy it was on gas consumption, and a half dozen other important questions. When I got through answering them he handed me a card which read "OLDS MOTOR WORKS, Lansing, Mich. C. H. Hurst, Factory Representative."

Now I figure that any factory with men that show such an interest in their product after eighteen thousand miles is registered on the speedometer, must be darn good people all the way through. Mr. Hurst was as much interested in what my OLDS SIX had done as though it was his own car.

And take it from me I'm just as well satisfied with it as the first day I drove it. I very seldom need any repair attention but when I do you boys are always there with bang up service.

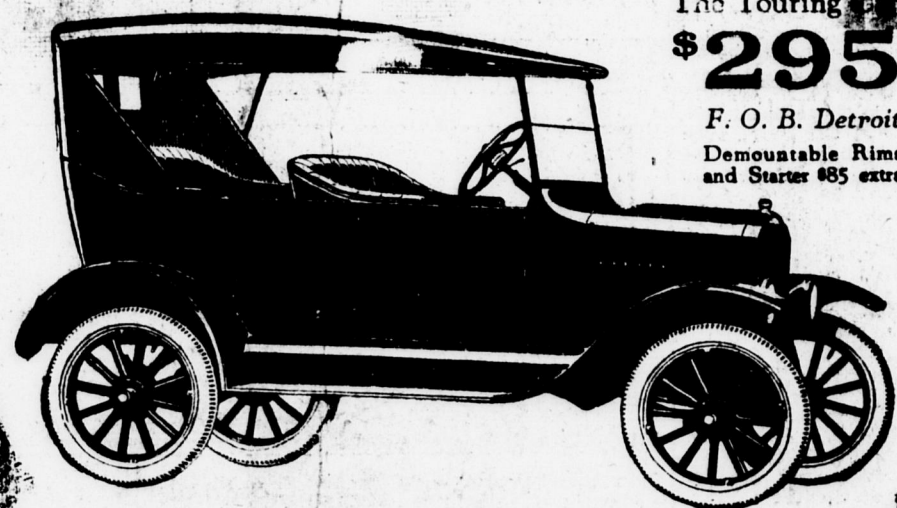

My Olds is easy on gas, has never failed me for a moment, and day in and day out, rain or shine, gumbo or sand, she is always there a full hundred per cent. Some day I hope to have a FLEET of TAXIS and believe me they ALL WILL BE OLDS SIX CYLINDERS.

Yours very truly,

JRB*H.
